To mark the ten year anniversary of the Leopard 2HEL's entry into service the Hellenic Army's XXV Armoured Brigade had a tank decorated in a special finish for the "OHI"-Day military parade in Salonika on the 28th October 2018.

The finish was designed and applied by Dimitris Stathopoulos of Icarus Workshop, a graphics designer with experience in the design and implementation of anniversary finishes both for aircraft and for tanks. Due to the tank's special paintwork army regulations only allow removable self-adhesive stickers to be used.

The national insignia number plates and bridging class markings are all vinyl stickers. The only painted on markings on the Leopard 2HEL are the various instructions stenciled on its engine deck. See the instruction sheet of LM 0015 for more information.

NOTE: This set must be used in conjunction with set LM 35015 which contains all the markings present on the Leopard 2HEL, including national insignia, number plates etc.

The various vinyl stickers had to be cut in order to fit to the various segments of the tank's armour.

Special thanks: This set of markings has been produced with the full cooperation of Dimitris Stathopoulos of Icarus Workshop who designed the markings for the actual tank.

NOTE

The markings below have been printed on a digital Sol-Ink printer by DecalPrint.de. The modeller should treat these with extra care and cut as close as possible to the design because the carrier film extends over the complete decal paper.
